

ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION PREPARATION METHOD AND SYSTEMS

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

[00111] A method of performing a selected alternate dispute procedure online comprises the steps of selecting at least one alternate dispute resolution professional and setting up a main chat room accessible by the alternate dispute resolution professional and first and second disputing parties. A private chat room is set up which is accessible by a selected one of the disputing parties and counsel for the selected disputing parties for conducting private information exchanges. A virtual presenter is accessible and the main chat room is activated for presenting evidence. The alternate dispute resolution procedure is then conducted through the exchange of information through chat in the main chat room and the presentation of evidence using the virtual presenter.
